Case Study: Business Continuity

A large municipality has no formal business continuity plan or procedures.

Client Situation

A large municipality had no formal Information Technology disaster recovery plan or procedures. Minimal operations documentation existed. The city needed a plan to formalize recovery procedures for its automated systems.

Altius IT Solution

Altius IT used our ten-step business continuity process (see Document Number 0503200) to review, analyze, and document the criticality of systems, procedures and departments. Altius IT worked with municipality departments in creating a business continuity plan as we prepared the staff and participated in out of state business continuity testing at a disaster recovery hot site.

Altius IT documented operations procedures for both day-to-day and disaster scenarios. Systems can now be operated by back up staff members in the event primary team members are unavailable.

Client Benefit

The municipality has enhanced protection of its information assets through an up-to-date disaster recovery plan. The plan is tested and enhanced on a regular basis thus ensuring accuracy of the plan.
